Homare Sawa: “It's easy for people to want to see the results fast, but it takes time”

Ekkono questions:

What do you think it means
to have a quick result?

How did you feel to achieve it?

The value of: Takes time

Ekkono considers that going too fast to achieve successes, without evaluating whether it was necessary to go quickly or if he could have done the same at a different pace, is not an added value.
