

TEACHING RESOURCES FOR FAMILIES

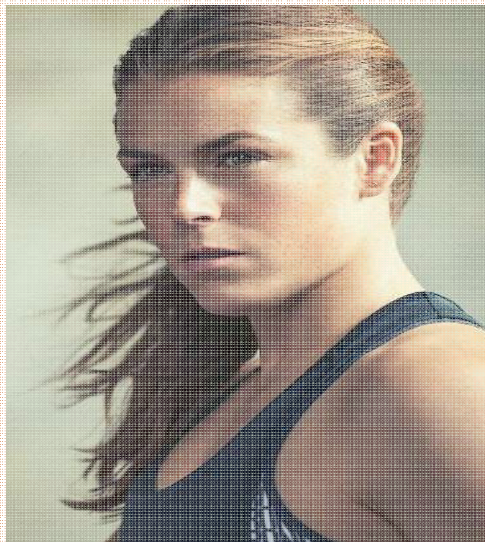

Kelley O'Hara says: "Do what you love. If you love something, you won't mind the sacrifices you should make"

Ekkono questions:

What is a sacrifice?

What sacrifices do you think Kelley refers to?

Why do you think Kelley says that if you love something, it won't matter what sacrifices you make to get it?

The value of Sacrifice:

Ekkono considers that a very important quality to work is sacrifice, because the effort, pain, or work that a person imposes on himself, to obtain or deserve something for himself or for the benefit of someone, will lead to the reward of improvement and personal growth.
