

TEACHING RESOURCES FOR FAMILIES

Ona Battle says: “I learned a lot from my teammates”

Ekkono questions:

Why is it important to learn every day?

Why is it important to value the learning of your teammates?

The value of: Learning every day from others

Ekkono believes that learning from others not only helps us improve, but also makes us more adaptable and effective people. In this world we all have something to learn from others or something to teach. The value of modesty is what allows us these learning opportunities
